

Contributors

ERIC CISTERNELLI is a senior at Bryant University, where he is majoring in Marketing. This is his first published poem.

BART EDELMAN is Professor of English at Glendale College in California, where he edits Eclipse. He is the author of six collections of poems, including The Geographer's Wife in 2012.

ED GALING is 94 years old, and has published extensively in literary journals. His latest book is Pushcarts and Peddlers. He lives in Pennsylvania.

ELTON GLASER, a native of New Orleans, is Distinguished Professor of English emeritus at the University of Akron. He has published six collections of poetry, among them Pelican Tracks, winner of the Crab Orchard Poetry Award.

DAVID GOLDSTEIN has fifty short stories published in 6 countries. He has published in Paris Transcontinental, Yuan Yang, The Prague Review, Confrontation, Evansville Review, and many others. He was nominated for Best Creative Nonfiction Vol. 3, Published by W.W. Norton. He graduated from Wharton and the University of Michigan Law School.

JOHN GREY has been published in the Bryant Literary Review, South Carolina Review, and Talking River. He has work forthcoming in the Evansville Review.

CAROL HAMILTON is Poet Laureate of Oklahoma emeritus. She has published extensively in literary journals, and has been nominated for the Pushcart Prize five times.

JIM HART lives in Brooklyn. He retired from a 30-year career with the New York City Sanitation Department to pursue his love of poetry. His work has appeared in literary journals around the world.

PAUL HOSTOVSKY is the author of three books of poetry. He is a winner of the Pushcart Prize, and has been featured on Poetry Daily, Verse Daily, and the Writer's Almanac. He is a sign language interpreter and Braille instructor in Boston.

GEOFFREY JAROK is an alumnus of Bryant University, and a former student editor of the Bryant Literary Review. He lives in Lowell, Massachusetts, and is working on his first novel.

RON KOERTGE is a fanatical and sometimes successful handicapper of thoroughbred racehorses. His most recent books are Indigo and Fever, both from Red Hen Press.

JOHN KRISTOFKO is Professor of English and a former dean at the University of Akron. His work has appeared in more than 100 different publications, including Cimarron Review, Bitterroot, and Poem.

BARBARA MACKAY lives in Little River, California, where she participates in local poetry readings and belongs to the Mendocino Writers Club, a charter of the California Writers Club. She has published widely in literary journals.

ROBERT MCGUILL is a Pushcart Prize nominee and Glimmertrain Stories finalist whose short fiction has appeared, or will soon appear, in the Southwest Review, The Sand Hill Review, South Dakota Review, Talking River, The Baltimore Review, The Santa Clara Review, and other literary magazines. He lives and writes in Colorado.

KEVIN MCINTOSH's short stories have appeared in the Beloit Fiction Journal, American Literary Review, Potomac Review, Jabberwock Review and have been nominated for Best New American Voices. He writes and teaches in Greater Boston.

JOHN MCKERNAN is a retired comma herder at Marshall University. His work has appeared in The New Yorker, The Atlantic Monthly, The Paris Review, and many other publications. He edits ABZ Press.

B.Z. NIDITCH is a poet, playwright, fiction writer, and teacher in Brookline, Massachusetts. He has published widely in journals and magazines throughout the world.

LAWRENCE O'BRIEN teaches English at Westfield State University in Massachusetts. His poems have been published in Vermont Literary Review, Iron Horse, and Amoskeag.

KORKUT ONARAN is originally from Turkey, but now lives in Boulder, Colorado. He received first prize in the Cervená Barva Press chapbook contest, and second prize in the Baltimore Review poetry competition.

DAVID PINAULT has been published in Realms of Fantasy, Verdad, and Conte Online. He has also written books on Arabic literature and South Asian religious rituals. Born in Providence, Rhode Island, he is currently a professor of religious studies at Santa Clara University and a member of the advisory board of the wildlife protection organization ProFauna Indonesia.

JANET PROULX has appeared in the Bryant Literary Review on seven occasions. She is a writer/copy editor at Bryant University.

EILEEN RUSSELL is a writer, actor and poet whose work has appeared in Wildacres Poetry, Midway Journal, Evening Street Review, Blue Lake Review, Epiphany and Borderline. To read more of her writing visit <http://www.edgyepigramsfromeileen.blogspot.com/>

C. SANCHEZ-GARCIA lives and writes in East Central Georgia where his personal library is bursting the walls of his house. He believes in passion, the power of ideas and that a good love story well told is the best medicine for melancholy. Sanchez-Garcia is an active member of the Erotica Readers and Writers Association and is widely published in the fast developing genre of erotica.

WENDY SMITH-STENHOUSE is Technical Services Assistant at Bryant's Douglas and Judith Krupp Library. She has done freelance writing for Rhode Island Home, Living & Design and her poetry has appeared in the Bryant Literary Review. This is her first published short story.

JOSH WARDRIP's fiction has appeared or is forthcoming in New Orleans Review, American Letters & Commentary, Ampersand Review, Skidrow Penthouse, The Barcelona Review, and other magazines. He studied at the University of Kentucky and Texas State University. He lives in Pittsburgh, PA, where he is a freelance editor.

CHARLES HARPER WEBB directs the Creative Writing program at California State University, Long Beach. His latest book is Shadow Ball: New & Selected Poems.

JOHN SIBLEY WILLIAMS is the author of six chapbooks, a winner of the HEART Poetry Award, and a finalist for the Pushcart and Rumi Poetry Prizes. He has more than 200 previous publications.

BUFF WHITMAN-BRADLEY lives in northern California. He is the author of two books of poetry, and the co-producer and director of two documentary films.

PARKER WILLIAMS is a senior at Bryant University majoring in Finance. This is his first published poem.

FRANCINE WITTE is a high school English teacher in New York City. She is the author of four chapbooks of poems, and has been nominated for The Pushcart Prize several times.